

Supporting Your Client's Mobility

We Are Available to Assess for a Homelift

For many, a homelift is essential to enable safe movement between floors in their home.

At Stiltz, we have worked throughout the lockdown to install homelifts for those who would otherwise be unable to return to, or remain in, their home. Because of this, we have products in stock in the UK which are available for fast installation if needed.

Our sales, technical and installation teams are ready and available. So call us today on 0330 222 0334 for an initial discussion or to book an appointment.

We are taking shielding, social distancing and the health of our staff, yourself and your clients into consideration before we commit to a home visit. We fully risk assess every situation and have virtual visits available if a face to face appointment isn't possible.
